Nice Jewish Girls Gone Bad

Cape May, NJ – Cape May Stage, South Jersey’s premier Equity theater, is pleased to present a hilarious evening of music, comedy, and burlesque that’s sure to delight: Nice Jewish Girls Gone Bad! Part of Cape May Stage’s acclaimed Second Stage Series, this bawdy burlesque has been keeping audiences rolling in the aisles from California to the Catskills. Nice Jewish Girls Gone Bad plays Monday, August 31st at 8pm at the Robert Shackleton Playhouse at the corner of Bank and Lafayette Streets in downtown Cape May.

Called “good kosher fun” by the New York Post, Nice Jewish Girls Gone Bad “has the outrageous feel of a bat mitzvah gone terribly, terribly wrong.” The show features an alternating lineup of female performers delivering a mixture of comedy, music, and burlesque. Accompanied by a four-piece klezmer rock band snarkily called “The Four Skins”, the evening is emceed by Susannah “The Goddess” Perlman. Perlman and her “broads” take the audience on a rollicking ride deconstructing centuries of tradition and guilt, complete with kick lines, punch lines, and a rendition of “L’chaim” with a fist in the mouth. Nice Jewish Girls Gone Bad has been featured on Comedy Central, HBO and MTV, and has been wowing sold-out crowds in NYC, Philadelphia, Boston, DC, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Madison, Detroit, Montreal, Burlington, Provincetown, the Berkshires, the Hamptons, and, of course, the Catskills.

Part of Cape May Stage’s acclaimed Second Stage Series, Nice Jewish Girls Gone Bad will run August 31st at 8pm at the Robert Shackleton Playhouse at the corner of Bank & Lafayette Streets in downtown Cape May. Tickets are $25. Assisted listening devices are also available upon request for the hearing impaired. Call (609) 884-1341 for reservations and information or visit the theatre’s website, www.capemaystage.com.

Cape May Stage’s Second Stage Series is presented through the gracious support of Chris and Dave Clemans.
